How can CRG Homecare's Care Workers help me?

Our purpose

Live in care enables you or a loved one to have tailored, one-to-one, round-the-clock support in your own home. Your live-in care worker will live with you in your home to provide you with care, companionship, and support so you can live in the comfort and familiarity of your own home and continue to enjoy the things you love to do.

Live in care is an alternative to residential care, allowing you to be around your family, friends, and pets with the peace of mind that you are in safe hands. Your dedicated care worker will be able to help and support you, so you can spend quality time with your loved ones.

You are in control of your own care; we work with you to create a personalised care plan which focuses on your goals and personal interests.

The role of a live-in care worker

Your care worker will live in your home so they can be on hand to, not just to support you with everyday tasks, but to offer emotional support and companionship. They will be that familiar face who can take you to visit your friends, accompany you on trips and days out.

-  Light domestic duties
-  Light gardening duties
-  Pet care
-  Preparing meals
-  Managing medication
-  Providing personal care

Things to consider..

There are things to consider when you are looking into live in care. Your dedicated care worker will require their own bedroom as well as cooking and bathroom facilities.

Your care worker will need a two-hour break per day, you will need to consider how their break will be covered.

Live in care vs Residential care

Residential care, unlike live in care where you receive support in the comfort of your own home, residential care is long-term support provided in a residential setting such as a care home.

Live in care:

- One-to-one care
- Stay in the comfort of your own home
- Personalised Care
- Choice
- Privacy
- Continue to do the things you love
- In control of what you want to do
- Leave your house to loved ones

Residential care:

- One care assistant to multiple customers
- Leave behind family and possessions
- Standardised care
- Set meals & bedtimes
- Shared living
- Limited outings
- Strict routines
- Sell your home to fund care

Who needs live in care?

Live-in Care could be just what you need, if:

- You need 24-hours support around the house
- You have Dementia, Alzheimer's, Parkinson's disease, or long-term neurological condition
- You have an acquired brain injury
- You have any other complex health requirement, but still want to maintain your independence in your own home

How is my live-in care assistant selected?

During our robust recruitment process, we ensure that we select the right Care Assistant for you. We look at your needs and personality and match these to the skills and character of our Live-In Care Assistant.

As part of the process, a rigorous interview and assessment are completed plus a full Disclosure and Barring Service check is undertaken on all our Care Assistants.

Cost

We believe that live in care gives a cost-effective alternative to residential care. Charges are based on the individual's circumstance and level of support.

The next steps

The first step is to contact a member of our team to find out more about our live-in care services. Once you have decided on the best care package for you or your loved one, we will then arrange a care consultation. We will learn about you, your current situation and discuss options for you that might best suit you or your loved one's needs.

If you decided on live-in care, we would then start the recruitment process to find the right Care Worker for you. After we have selected your Care Assistant, a start date of your care will be agreed.

Our team of Care Assessors will visit you to review your level of care and the service provided.
